Sandford Martin said,
"Thanksgiving Day comes, by statute, once a year; to the honest person, it comes as frequently as the heart of gratitude will allow."

Of course, every day brings us something to be grateful for, but still, there is something wonderful about this once a year holiday set aside solely for the purpose of counting and appreciating our blessings. Come explore, in story, song, and sermon, this special American national holiday.

Speaker: Scottie Johnson

Lay Leader: Scottie Johnson

Sunday 29, “The Seven Deadly Sins of Unitarian Universalism” We are so good at not talking about sin. What vocabulary can we use to talk about human destructiveness?
