

JULY 2010 PROGRAMS

Sunday July, 6th.

Title: "A Sacred friendship"

Speaker: Ruth Semrau.

Lay Leader: Ruth Semrau

A sacred friendship is one in which there is a depth of connection and commitment. Who do you think of when these words are spoken? A childhood companion? Someone who helped you at a crucial moment? Your marriage partner? Your adult child? The deep friendships of our lives may be very few in number and must be cherished with attention.

Sunday July, 11th.

Title: "BOOK SUNDAY"

Lay Leader: Sky Mitchell

Read any good books lately? Curious minds want to know! This is a day to share with the Fellowship the books you have enjoyed reading during the past year. It is also an opportunity to share books that have been particularly inspiring or helpful, no matter when you read them. You are also invited to share a favorite book from childhood. And we most definitely want to hear from our children about what they are reading these days. Come prepared to share title, author, and a brief synopsis of the work.

Sunday July 18th.

Sunday July 25th.

Speaker: Rabi Neal Katz

Lay Leader: Marolen Mullinax

Title: "From Salvation to Damnation and Halfway Back"

Speaker: Celeste Fisher
Lay Leader: Celeste Fisher

Growing up in a world of religious absolutes (either you are saved or condemned, either you do or do not believe in God), Celeste has been from one end of the continuum of religious belief to the other and back again in her search for spiritual truth. She will share a comparative discussion of the various spiritual belief systems that have ultimately freed her to reject that continuum of religious and spiritual absolutes for an ideology that embraces the core UU values and the free and responsible search for spiritual truth.
